

The MSc in Finanza e Metodi Quantitativi per l'Economia of the University of Perugia, in partnership with ARPM, offers the ARPM Bootcamp as one of its elective courses, assigning CFU upon successful completion of the final exam. ARPM provides merit based scholarships for covering travel, meal, accomodation and fee expences. Students who enroll in the ARPM Bootcamp can be presented with an opportunity to apply for an internship with the internship sponsor (four internship opportunities will be offered to the students of the Universities in partnership with ARPM).

You can apply by following the link on their website. The selection, and also the scholarships' assignment, is up to ARPM. For details contact Dr. Marco Nicolosi.
